

Correct presentation of the question:

The screenshot shows a Firefox browser window with two tabs: "What's new with Firefox" and "LeadRight Leadership Indicator". The address bar displays "https://assessments.cdg-corp.com/index.php/266289". The page content includes a question titled "1. I describe myself as" with the instruction "Please select 2 answers". Below the question is a grid of radio button options. The grid is divided into two columns: "Most" (with sub-columns 5 and 4) and "Next" (with sub-columns 3 and 2). The options are "competitive", "sociable", "idealistic", and "reliable". The "sociable" option under "5" and the "idealistic" option under "3" are selected, indicated by green dots. A "Reset Question" button is located at the bottom right of the grid.

	Most		Next
